RECOMMENDATION LETTER

I want to recommend Cerebra, a Kazakhstan-based medical software developer for early stroke detection.

Cerebra is a well-known startup in Kazakhstan.

Medical solution has proved its efficacy in 26 Stoke Centers across Kazakhstan, and the number of new Stroke Centers onboarding the Cerebra's medical software is increasing.

Unlike the developed world's healthcare institutions, hospitals in Kazakhstan are slow at adapting digital solutions.

Thus, it is impressive to see how despite facing skepticism and unwillingness to use digital solutions from healthcare experts, Cerebra managed to tailor its solution to the specific needs of Neuroradiologists and Neurosurgeons to drive the acceptance and active usage.

I am confident that CEREBRA's technical capability and access to healthcare institutions across Central Asia would be a valuable contributor to the growth of the digital health solution of AstraZeneca.

Sincerely,

Zhalgas Daniyarov
